Clinic Opportunity: RMT, Elios Health

Family, Community, and Commitment

Elios Health is a newly renovated physiotherapy and health care clinic near the intersection of Kind Edward and Main Street in Vancouver, BC. Founded on the values of family, community, and commitment, we look to build our team with professionals who are connected to the well-being of their family or community. We currently have an opening for a Registered Massage Therapist to join our clinic.

Our practitioners see a wide variety of patients from all demographics. We see great value in facilitating and supporting people in their health goals, from lifting up their grandchildren to summiting one of BC's iconic mountains. We are committed to providing a safe space for all people, and strive to communicate effectively to build a healthy clinic environment.

Elios Health supports four treatment rooms with electric foot-controlled up-down tables, in house laundry, and utilizes that Jane client management platform. Our location at King Edward and Main sees high volumes of foot traffic, and receives referrals from our local sports communities. Applicants should have an interest in musculoskeletal health, although we invite practitioners with other specialties to apply. Remuneration will be based on experience and history of community involvement, additional skill sets, and/or volunteerism.

For more information on our clinic, please visit www.elioshealth.com, or follow us on Instagram @elios_health. Please submit your resume and cover letter to info@elioshealth.com. We look forward to meeting you.
