

Assessment and Treatment of Viscera

With Sheryl Hamilton, RMT, B.Sc.

A continuing education workshop

September 29, 2019

Vernon, BC

Sunday 9:00 am—5:15 pm

7 PE CEUs

Registration

$250 + GST

Registration Contact Info

Email: lisa_walker@ovcmt.com
Toll-Free Phone: 1-800-701-8863
Fax: 250-558-3748

Location

Okanagan Valley College of Massage Therapy
#200, 3400 - 30th Avenue
Vernon, BC V1T 2E2

Recommended prerequisite: Fascial Mapping and Treatment

Workshop Overview

Visceral dysfunction can create symptoms throughout the body through fascial restriction, neurohormonal dysfunction, and neurological dysfunction.

This workshop will help you:

- Locate and treat visceral restriction in the thorax, abdomen and pelvis
- Learn to use treatment of viscera to improve range of motion
- Extend your career by straining your body less in treatment

The easy-to-learn tools taught in this workshop will let you add visceral assessment and treatment to your practice right away. Improve your results with your patients, and expand the scope of functional issues that you can effectively treat.

Register now, space is limited.

Sheryl Hamilton has been an RMT for 22 years, and has taught massage therapy and related sciences in New York, NY at the Swedish Institute and Vernon, BC at OVCMT for almost 10 years combined. She is also a registered Craniosacral Therapist in the biodynamic tradition, and a spiritual director. Additionally, she has been offering mentorship to RMTs for the past five years to help them access their best potential in their practices. Having taught Musculoskeletal Anatomy and Neuroanatomy, she brings a deep understanding of living anatomy and how best to support optimal function in the body and in life.

